WASHINGTON, DC (May 7, 2015) – Today, the US Business Leadership Network® (USBLN®) officially announced that EY has secured the remaining Presenting Partner opportunity of America's Disability Rights Museum on Wheels, the country's first disability rights mobile museum.

America's Disability Rights Museum on Wheels (DRMW), an accessible self-contained motor vehicle, features interactive learning opportunities and emerging technologies. The mobile museum will kick off its cross-country tour June 8, 2015 in Charlotte, NC. The DRMW provides a unique opportunity to learn the fascinating history of the disability rights movement. It presents an eye-catching exhibit that invites the visitor to participate in hands-on learning about the disability civil rights movement and the technological innovation as a result of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

"We are also thrilled to announce that Stephen R. Howe, Jr., Americas Managing Partner and Managing Partner of the U.S. firm, Ernst & Young, LLP, joins Senator Tom Harkin, Senator Bob Dole, and Congressman Tony Coelho on the DRMW Honorary Board of Advisors," said Jill Houghton, Executive Director of the USBLN. Other distinguished members of the DRMW Advisory Board include senior executives from USBLN member companies and a cross section of respected leaders with a demonstrated background in furthering the ADA's goal of equality for people with disabilities in the workplace and in society.

"I'm honored to serve alongside such respected leaders who were instrumental in the passing of the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) and who remain focused on furthering the goal of equality for people of all abilities in the workplace," said Howe. "One of our founders Arthur Young was deaf and had low vision. His differing abilities led him to become an entrepreneur and an innovator in the profession. At EY, we're proud to build on his legacy of leveraging the talents of people of all abilities."

Together, the ADA Legacy Project and America's Disability Rights Museum on Wheels are aligning communities with a vision that bridges the legacy of the ADA and the next 25 years.

Specifically, the DRMW is designed to help local communities:

- Understand that the ADA is a Civil Rights law
- Engage youth in interactive learning experiences
- Educate the public on the history of human rights violations and the community engagement that led up to the passage of the ADA

- Promote public awareness through social media, filmed interviews and stories with members of the disability and business communities
- Discover the possibilities during the next 25 years through experiencing innovative and connective technologies
- Provide business, education, government, and communities with tools for promoting full inclusion within their organizations

About The ADA Legacy Project and Tour

The Tour is a traveling exhibit rolling across the country raising awareness and building excitement toward ADA25 - the 25th anniversary of the ADA. The ADA25 Legacy Tour is inspired by the historic 50- state journey taken by the husband-and-wife team of Justin and Yoshiko Dart in 1988 to garner grassroots support for the yet-to-be-passed Americans with Disabilities Act. www.roadtofreedom.net
